

Radiological Safety Technician Core Fundamental Training Course

Training Today – for Everyday Application

Begins
Tuesday, October 23rd, @ 7pm
in Idaho Falls, Idaho

The Bradley Business Group, Inc. is pleased to offer the Radiological Safety Technician Core Fundamental Training Course in eastern Idaho. If you are like many who have tried to study on their own to take the examination but found it hard to do, and would like to have a seasoned Radiological Safety professional instruct you in the in-depth knowledge and understanding of this dynamic specialized field, then this is the course for you.

This 78-hour course will cover the DOE-HDBK-1122-99, as well as the Chart of the Nuclides which is basis for passing the examination and understanding this important field of work. Upon successful exam completion, you will receive a Core Training Certification Card and Certificate required to begin working for the various contractors at the Idaho Nuclear Laboratory (INL), as well as other locations across the country. Classes are T-Th, 7-10pm and will run Oct. 23 through Feb. 7, 2008.

We provide the materials needed: printed copy of DOE-HDBK-1122-99 (w/ updates), Chart of the Nuclides booklet (16th Ed.), notebook with paper, a scientific calculator, and a pen and pencil. You supply the drive and determination to learn the material.

The training does not have to end there, for those wanting to continue on, the follow-on course will be 78-hour General Site Specific training to introduce radiological instruments & equipment and how to use them, followed by OJT practical's (hands-on) and oral examination. This course begin Feb.12, 2008.
